

---

Contributors

---

Leonard R. N. Ashley, English, Brooklyn College, was president of the American Name Society in 1979 and 1987. His latest book is Elizabethan Popular Culture, and he was the guest editor of the special Shakespeare issue of Names (Sept.-Dec. 1987).

Edward Callary, English, Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, IL 60115, is president of the North Central Names Society and second vice-president of the American Name Society.

Jack De Bellis teaches American literature at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, PA 18015. He has published in contemporary American and southern literature and is writing a book on John Updike's fiction.

Joan M. Fayer teaches English and linguistics in the College of Humanities, University of Puerto Rico, Rio Piedras, PR 00931. Most of her publications have been in language learning and popular culture.

Robert F. Fleissner, Department of English, Theatre, and Communication, Central State University, Wilberforce, OH 45384, has published extensively, especially on Shakespeare and Dickens. His essay in Names (1977) on Eliot's "Prufrock," reprinted in Names and their Varieties, (1986), will be the opening chapter in his book, Ascending the Prufrockian Stair, to be published by Peter Lang later this year.

Justin Friberg, Political Science and Geography, Old Dominion University, Norfolk, VA 23508, teaches environmental geography and is the director of the geography program. His research has included studies of Latin America and of natural hazards.

Frank R. Hamlin, French, University of British Columbia, Vancouver, BC Canada V6T 1W5, has recently been elected editor of Onomastica Canadiana. Most of his onomastics publications have been in the field of southern French placenames.

Kelsie B. Harder, English, State University College, Potsdam, NY 13676, has just retired as editor of Names, but will remain at the center of activity in the American Name Society. Among his duties is acting director of the revitalized Placename Survey of the United States.

Bob Julyan, RR 5, 31 Avenida Almendro, Albuquerque NM 87123, is an independent writer specializing in geographic names, running, and humor. He has two books about mountain names and is currently revising New Mexico Place Names for the University of New Mexico Press.

Preecha Juntanamalaga, Faculty of Asian Studies, The Australian National University, GPO Box 4, Canberra, ACT 2601, Australia, is a native of Thailand (formerly Siam), and has studied at California State-Hayward,

University of Hawaii, and Cornell. His writing includes articles on the Thai language and numerous short stories in Thai publications.

James Kari, Alaska Native Language Center, University of Alaska, Fairbanks, AK 99701, has published a number of articles on Alaska placenames, with emphasis on those names used by natives.

Bernard C. Peters, Geography, Northern Michigan University, Marquette, MI 49885, has published a number of articles on the placenames of Michigan's Upper Peninsula, especially the Lake Superior shoreline.

Randall Rohe, Geography, University of Wisconsin-Waukesha, Waukesha 53188, teaches physical and cultural geography and has published extensively on the logging and mining industries.

Adrian Room, 173 The Causeway, Petersfield, Hants, GU31 4LN, UK, has around twenty books to his credit, mostly on the origins of words and names. Two more are due to be published this year: A Dictionary of Astronomical Names and a new comprehensive Dictionary of Place-Names in the British Isles.

Laurence E. Seits teaches English at Waubensee Community College, Sugar Grove, IL 60554. He is the executive secretary of the North Central Name Society and the editor of that organization's recently published Festschrift in Honor of Allen Walker Read.

Roger Stump, teaches geography in the Department of Geography and Planning, State University of New York at Albany, Albany, NY 12222. His onomastic research interests include street names as well as names of churches.

Virgil J. Vogel, History, Truman College, City Colleges of Chicago, though retired, continues to work on the placenames of Indian origin in the United States. So far he has written books on the Indian names of Illinois, Iowa, and Michigan. He lives at 1819 Maple Ave., Northbrook, IL 60062.

Albert Wilhelm, English, Tennessee Technological University, Cookeville, TN 39505, served recently in Korea as a Senior Fulbright Lecturer on American Literature. He has published articles on John Updike, Thomas Wolfe, Robert Penn Warren, Joseph Heller, and Bobbie Ann Mason.

Donald Zeigler, Political Science and Geography, Old Dominion University, Norfolk, VA, 23508, teaches cultural and urban geography. He is president of the Virginia Geographic Society, and his research specialties are cultural landscape and technological hazards.

Wilbur Zelinsky, Geography, The Pennsylvania State University, University Park, PA 16802, has written extensively on the cultural significance of names and naming. He has been a member of the Board of Editors of Names since 1983.