
Contributors

Yoram Bar-Gal, Department of Geography, University of Haifa, Mount Carmel, Haifa 31999, Israel, teaches and does research in cultural geography (symbolic landscapes, street names, ideology and man-made land), and geography in education (ideology and national curriculum, images and assessment of landscapes in textbooks). In 1989-90 he is on a sabbatical at the University of London.

Grady Clay, 330 Wildwood Place, Louisville, KY 40206, is a journalist, editor, and environmentalist specializing in the impact of urbanization on the landscape. For twenty-three years he was the editor of the international journal Landscape Architecture. In addition to his many books and articles, he has served as a visiting faculty member at several major universities.

Ilinca Constantinescu, Institute of Linguistics, Str. Spiru Haret 12, 79515 Bucharest, Romania, was a student of Iorgu Iordan and is currently a scientific researcher at the Institute of Linguistics in Bucharest. In 1973 she was a research associate with the Research Center for the Language Sciences at Indiana University. She has written a grammar of Norwegian, and her most recent research interest is English proper names.

Charlotte Downey, R.S.M., English Department, Brown University, Providence, RI 02912, is Editor of the series American Linguistics 1700-1900, of which twenty volumes have been published. She has also written on Emily Dickinson. Presently she is doing research in American linguistics at Brown University.

Thomas J. Gasque, Department of English, University of South Dakota, Vermillion, SD 57069, is Editor of Names. He has been in every state except Alaska, Oregon, and Hawai'i.

Kelsie B. Harder, Department of English, State University of New York College, Potsdam, NY 13676, has served the American Name Society as President, Executive Secretary, and Editor of Names. Beginning in 1990 he will be the Book Review Editor of this journal.

Marion O. Harris is a computer systems analyst at Bell Communications Research (Bellcore), Morristown, NJ 07960, and a genealogist. She is Associate Editor of Names and has recently been elected to the Board of Managers of the American Name Society.

396 Contributors

Edwin D. Lawson, Department of Psychology, State University of New York College, Fredonia, NY 14063, is a member of the Board of Editors of Names and has recently retired from teaching. His current projects include updating his 1987 Personal Names and Naming: An Annotated Bibliography and a study of the psychology of first names.

Breandán S. Mac Aodha, Professor of Geography, University College, Galway, Ireland, has written numerous articles on placenames. His main research interest lies in the toponymy of Ireland, but he also has a strong interest in the names of Spain and Portugal, in both of which he has spent long periods.

Bengt Pamp, Dialekt- och Ortnamnsarchivet i Lund, Helgonabacken 14, S-223 62 Lund, Sweden, is Head of Dialect and Placename Archives at the University of Lund in Sweden. He has written extensively on the names of Sweden and on name theory.

Virgil J. Vogel, History, Truman College, City Colleges of Chicago, though retired, continues to work on placenames, primarily those of Indian origin in the United States. So far he has published books on the Indian names of Illinois, Iowa, and Michigan. He lives at 1819 Maple Avenue, Northbrook, IL 60062.

Christopher Columbus 1492 - 1992

October 12, 1992, will mark the 500th anniversary of Columbus' landfall in the New World. Names will join the rest of America in recognizing this significant occasion with a special issue (September 1992) devoted to onomastic topics relating to Columbus and his legacy. Probable deadline for submission of papers: November 1991. For further information contact:

Thomas J. Gasque, Editor
Names
Dept. of English
University of South Dakota
Vermillion, SD 57069