
Contributors

Robert Bunge, Associate Professor, Department of Modern Languages, University of South Dakota, Vermillion, SD 57069, teaches Russian and Lakota (Sioux). His onomastic interests include Indian placenames in South Dakota and adjoining states.

Edward Callary, Associate Professor of Linguistics in the Department of English, Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, IL 60115, edits the Journal of the North Central Name Society. He was the 1990 President of the American Name Society.

Robert F. Fleissner, Associate Professor of English in the Department of English, Theatre, and Communications, Central State University, Wilberforce, OH 45384, has published extensively in literary onomastics. His latest book relating to onomastics is A Rose by Another Name (1989), the major portion of which deals with Shakespeare.

Robert E. Ford, Associate Professor, Department of Geography, Brigham Young University, Provo, UT 84601, was born and raised in Honduras and lived for a number of years in what is now Belize. His onomastic interests relate to his specialty in political and cultural ecology and the classification of features of the environment, including toponyms.

Edwin D. Lawson, Professor of Psychology, SUNY College, Fredonia, NY 14063, is on the Board of Editors of Names. Though mostly retired from teaching, he continues to research personal names and to gather items to add to a proposed revision of his Personal Names and Naming: An Annotated Bibliography, which is still available from Greenwood Press for $35 plus postage.

Dorothy E. Litt, Mary Ingraham Bunting Institute, Radcliffe Research and Study Center, Cambridge, MA 02138, is the librarian at the Institute and an independent scholar. Her onomastic interests center on the literature of the English Renaissance, especially drama. Her paper "The Poetics and Politics of Naming: The Case of Sir Walter Raleigh and His Queen" will appear in a forthcoming issue of Names.

Norman Nathan, 1189 SW Tamarind Way, Boca Raton, FL 33486, is Professor of English at Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton, where he teaches Shakespeare and the Bible as Literature. His present major scholarly interest is names in Shakespeare.

Bernard O'Kelly, Box 8038, University Station, Grand Forks, ND 58202, is Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and Professor of English at the University of North Dakota.

80 Contributors

Terese Thonus, Department of English, LaGrange College, LaGrange, GA 30240, and Department of English, Auburn University at Montgomery, Montgomery, AL 361173596 (she is an instructor at both), taught EFL and trained teachers in Curitiba and Porto Alegre, Brazil, for five years. Her main interests are English as an international language and cross-language borrowing of personal names.

Richard Ulack, Professor and Chairman, Department of Geography, University of Kentucky, Lexington, KY 40506, has research interests in population and migration in Southeast Asia and in Appalachia.

Virgil J. Vogel, 1819 Maple Ave., Northbrook, IL 60062, retired Professor of Social Sciences at Truman College of Chicago, is the author of Indian Place Names in Illinois (1963), Iowa Place Names of Indian Origin (1983), Indian Names in Michigan (1986), and Indian Names in Wisconsin (in press, Univ. of Wisconsin Press), and of other books on Indian history and culture.

William A. Withington, Professor Emeritus, Department of Geography, University of Kentucky, Lexington 40506, has written the preface to the revised edition of Thomas Field's Guide to Kentucky Place Names (forthcoming 1991). He is also interested in street names in Sumatran cities.

Ladislav Zgusta, Center for Advanced Study, University of Illinois, Urbana, IL 61801, is Professor of Linguistics and the Classics, author of books on Scythian and Anatolian anthroponyms and on Anatolian toponyms, and editor of the Handbuch der Namenkunde.

Spring Names Meetings

April 27: Tenth Annual Meeting, North Central Name Society, Chicago, IL. Contact: Lawrence E. Seits, English Dept., Waubensee Community College, Sugar Grove, IL 60554.

May 4: Thirtieth Annual Names Institute, Baruch College, New York. Contact: Wayne H. Finke, Modern Languages, Box 340, 17 Lexington Ave., New York, NY 10010.

May 26-27: Canadian Society for the Study of Names, Queen's Univ., Kingston, Ont. Contact: Wolf Ahrens, Dept. of Langs., Lits., & Lx., South 561 Ross Building, York Univ., 4700 Keeler St., North York, Ont. M3J1P3.