

---

Contributors

---

John Algeo, Department of English, University of Georgia, Athens, GA 30602, is Alumni Foundation Distinguished Professor and a past president of the American Name Society (1984). He is the author of On Defining the Proper Name and has written on placenames, personal names, and literary onomastics.

Leonard R. N. Ashley, Department of English, Brooklyn College CUNY, Brooklyn, NY 11210, has twice been president of the American Name Society (1979 and 1987) and now serves on its Board of Managers. A recent onomastic publication is What's in a Name? (1989, paper 1991), and another book on names is in preparation.

Meredith F. Burrill, 5204 Westwood Drive, Bethesda, MD 20816, has been a geographer since 1925 and has served the Association of American Geographers in various ways, including president. He has been a member of the American Name Society since its inception and was its president in 1955. From 1943 until 1973 he was Executive Secretary of the US Board on Geographic Names and is now the Executive Secretary Emeritus.

Frederic G. Cassidy, 6123 Helen White Hall, 600 North Park Street, Madison, WI 53706, is Professor Emeritus of English at the University of Wisconsin. He was president of the American Name Society in 1980 and is now the Chief Editor of the Dictionary of American Regional English, the second volume of which, D-H, has just appeared.

Gerald Leonard Cohen, Foreign Languages, 213 Humanities-Social Sciences Building, University of Missouri—Rolla, Rolla, MO 65401, will be president of the American Name Society in 1992. He specializes in etymology, and his onomastic work includes Interesting Missouri Place Names (2 volumes) and Origin of New York City's Nickname "The Big Apple."

C. Warren Derrick, Jr., Department of Pediatrics, University of South Carolina School of Medicine, 5 Medical Park, Columbia, SC 29203, is Professor of Pediatrics and Chairman of the Department. His interests in medical history focus on the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries.

Henri Diament, Department of French, University of Haifa, Haifa, Israel, is currently on leave teaching at the University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, South Africa. His interest in onomastic matters has ranged from Romance toponymy through scientific and technological terminology to literary onomastics.

Thomas J. Gasque, Department of English, University of South Dakota, Vermillion, SD 57069, is in his fourth year as editor of Names. The focus of his onomastic research is on placenames in South Dakota.

Kelsie B. Harder, Department of English, SUNY College, Potsdam, NY 13676, though the honoree of this issue of Names for his past service to the American Name Society, is much involved in the present: his position as book review editor of the journal is one of the visible indications of his continuing inspiration.

Edwin D. Lawson, Department of Psychology, SUNY College, Fredonia, NY 14063, is on the Board of Editors of Names. He has done extensive research on personal names and continues to gather items on personal names for a revised edition of his Personal Names and Naming: An Annotated Bibliography (1987).

Emma Woo Louie, 1646 Redcliff Street, Los Angeles, CA 90026, is an independent researcher on American surnames of Chinese origin. She has published articles covering such topics as the history and sources of these surnames, Chinese dialect representation, and changes in surnames among Chinese Americans.

W. F. H. Nicolaisen, Department of English, General Literature, and Rhetoric, State University of New York at Binghamton, Binghamton, NY 13902, is Distinguished Professor of English and Folklore. He was president of the American Name Society in 1977 and has published extensively in name studies and folk-narrative research

Richard R. Randall, Defense Mapping Agency, 8613 Lee Highway, Fairfax, VA 22031, is Executive Secretary of the US Board on Geographic Names and Geographer of the Defense Mapping Agency. He has been active in names programs of the UN, the International Hydrographic Organization, and the Pan American Institute of Geography and History.

Robert M. Rennick, 588 North Lake Drive, Prestonsburg, KY 41653, is a folklorist, story teller, and administrator for Kentucky Social Services. Among his many onomastic publications is his 1984 book Kentucky Place Names.

302 Contributors

Gutierre Tibón, Avenida Gutierre Tibón 11, Cuernavaca, Morelos, Mexico, is retired from the National University of Mexico. He is a charter member of the American Name Society and is the author of numerous books on Mexican history and on Hispanic placenames and personal names, most recently his Diccionario etimológico comparado de los apellidos españoles, hispanoamericanos y filipinos (1988), reviewed in this journal last year.

Virgil J. Vogel, 1819 Maple Street, Northbrook, IL 60062, is retired as a professor of history and social sciences at Truman College, City Colleges of Chicago. He is the author of Indian Place Names in Illinois (1963), Iowa Place Names of Indian Origin (1983), Indian Names in Michigan (1966), and Indian Names in Wisconsin (forthcoming, January 1992) and of other books on Indian history and culture.

C. A. Weslager, 859 Old Public Road, Hockessin, DE 19707, taught history at Brandywine College of Widener University. He is a longtime contributor to Names and the author of twenty-five books dealing with Indians and the early colonial period in which hundreds of personal names, placenames, and names of ships are explained. A paperback version of his The Delaware Indians: A History has just been issued from Rutgers University Press.