
Contributors

Leonard R. N. Ashley, Professor of English, Brooklyn College CUNY, Brooklyn, NY 11210, has twice been president of ANS (1979, 1987) and now serves on the Board of Managers. His 1989 book, What's in a Name? has recently been issue in paperback.

Diane Bradley, Department of Modern Languages, Vancouver Community College, 100 West 49th Avenue, Vancouver, BC, Canada V5Y 2Z6, is a French instructor. Her main onomastic interest is in French placenames.

Jon C. Campbell, US Geological Survey, Reston, VA 22092, is a geographer in the Office of Geographic and Cartographic Research. From mid-November 1991 to the end of March 1992 he is part of the USGS austral summer field team in Antarctica.

Gerald L. Cohen, Professor of Foreign Languages, University of Missouri—Rolla, Rolla, MO 65401, is an etymologist with a particular interest in US and British slang as well as in Missouri placenames. He is the 1992 president of ANS.

Lurline H. Coltharp, 4263 Ridgcrest, El Paso, TX 79902, is Professor Emerita of Linguistics and English at the University of Texas, El Paso, was ANS president in 1978. Her current interest is in promoting The Lurline H. Coltharp Collection of Onomastics at the The Library of the University of Texas at El Paso, El Paso, TX 79968.

Claire Culleton, Assistant Professor of English, Kent State University, Kent, OH 44242, teaches modern British and Irish literature. She recently finished work on her book, Names and Naming in Joyce, and is interested in literary onomastics.

Frank R. Hamlin, Professor of French, University of British Columbia, Vancouver, BC, Canada V6T 1Z1, specializes primarily in French placenames. He is the editor of Onomastica Canadiana, the journal of the Canadian Society for the Study of Names.

Kelsie B. Harder, Professor of English, State University of New York College at Potsdam, Potsdam, NY 13676, a past president of ANS (1982), has also served as executive secretary and editor of Names. At present he is book review editor.

Dorothy E. Litt, Mary Ingraham Bunting Institute, Radcliffe Research and Study Center, Cambridge MA 02138, is the librarian at the Institute and an independent scholar. Her onomastic interests center on the English Renaissance, especially drama.

Brenna E. Lorenz, Box 11135, Yigo, Guam 96929, has taught chemistry at several colleges. Now that she has moved to Guam, she is doing research on Chamorro first names and continuing work on her encyclopedia of first names.

Breandán Mac Aodha, Professor of Geography, University College, Galway, Ireland, has contributed several articles and reviews to Names. He has written extensively on the toponymy of Ireland and to a lesser extent on the Iberian Peninsula.

Mary R. Miller, Professor Emerita of English, University of Maryland, College Park, MD 20742, was president of ANS in 1988 and is a member of the governing committee of ICOS. She is the author of Place-Names of the Northern Neck of Virginia.

W. F. H. Nicolaisen, Professor of English and Folklore, State University of New York at Binghamton, Binghamton, NY 13902, is executive secretary of the International Committee on Onomastic Sciences (ICOS). He was president of ANS in 1977.

Ira Rosenwaike, Population Studies Center, University of Pennsylvania, 3718 Locust Walk, Philadelphia, PA 19104, is a demographer. His recent publications have focused on ethnic and religious groups in the United States.

Grant Smith, Professor of English, Eastern Washington University, Cheney, WA 99004, is chairman of the Placename Survey of the United States (PLANSUS). He writes about American Indian Names and names in Shakespeare.