

Contributors to Vol 43, No 4

Herbert Barry, III, is Professor of Pharmaceutical Sciences in the School of Pharmacy, and Adjunct Professor of Anthropology at the University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh 15261. His research interests, in addition to onomastics, are in psychology, anthropology, pharmacology, political science, and economics. barryh@vms.cis.pitt.edu

Theodore Holland, Jr. is a technical writer and microscopist for Albert Michaels Conservation, Inc., Harrisburg, PA 17102. He holds a Ph.D. in cultural anthropology from The Union Institute, Cincinnati, OH, from which he was a recipient of the Sussman Project Demonstrating Excellence Award, for research on the oral narratives and lifeways of steam-era railroad workers in Pennsylvania.

Carole Hough is Lecturer in the Department of English Language, University of Glasgow, 12 University Gardens, Glasgow G12 8QH. A former Research Associate at the Centre for English Name Studies (CENS), she is currently a member of the Advisory Team to the CENS project 'A Survey of the Language of English Place-Names.' chough@arts.gla.ac.uk

Lewis L. McArthur, a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, has long been interested in geographic names. He is the compiler of the 4th, 5th and 6th editions of Oregon Geographic Names, immediate past president of the American Name Society, and a 35-year member of the Oregon Geographic Names Board. He is actively researching the history of Oregon names, maintaining and expanding the Oregon GNIS file, and consulting on historic industrial architecture.

Roger Payne is Executive Secretary of the U.S. Board on Geographic Names, Chief of the Branch of Geographic Names at the National Mapping Division of the U.S. Geological Survey, Database Administrator for the National Geographic Names Database, and Director and Principle Instructor in the toponymy program of the Pan American Institute on Geography and History. He is author of Place Names of the Outer Banks of North Carolina. rpayne@usgs.gov

Irina Ren Vasiliev is in the Geography Department at the State University of New York, College at Geneseo 14454, where she teaches courses in cartography, environmental issues, and statistical analysis for geographers. Her thesis, Moscow, USA, used a number of the mapping techniques referred to in the current article. vasiliev@uno.cc.geneseo.edu