

The Ehrensperger Report

The Ehrensperger Report is the primary means by which members of the American Name Society and onomasts throughout the world are informed of current onomastic research and activities of members of the Society. The editor of the Ehrensperger Report, Michael McGoff, is now collecting information for the 1997 issue, which will be published in December, 1997. Please send a summary of your activities during the year to

Dr. Michael F. McGoff

Associate Dean

Watson School of Engineering and Applied Science or by email to

by 31 October 1997

To be successful as the major information clearinghouse of the Society and as useful as possible to ANS members, the Ehrensperger Report must be as complete as possible, with reports from as many people as possible, reporting as many activities as possible. Even if your work is in progress rather than completed, please submit a summary to Dr. McGoff. It would be appropriate to include such items as onomastic or other studies under way, projects completed during 1997, publications appearing or accepted in 1997, whether onomastic or not, public or media appearances, data currently being collected or areas under investigation. Nothing is insignificant or unimportant; what might appear obvious or trivial to one person may be of crucial importance to another, so please summarize your activities; they may be just what others are looking for.

Please include your surface and email addresses, and fax number, since the Ehrensperger Report is regularly used to establish and maintain contact among onomasts. And remember the 31 October deadline.
