This issue contains the announcement of the second winner of the 2010 award for best article in Names: A Journal of Onomastics. This year's winner is Dr Małgorzata Rutkiewicz-Hanczewska (Adam Mickiewicz University, Poland) for her article entitled "Proper Names in the Polish Global Reality," published in Names: A Journal of Onomastics 58(3): 159–68.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the editorial board of Names for their tireless efforts in responding to my frequent requests for help in evaluating submissions to the journal. They are: (1) John Algeo (Emeritus, University of Georgia); (2) Edward Callary (Northern Illinois University); (3) Chris De Vinne (College of Notre Dame of Maryland); (4) Thomas J. Gasque (Emeritus, University of South Dakota); (5) Robert Julyan (Independent Scholar); (6) Margaret Lee (Hampton University); (7) Michael F. McGoff (Binghamton University, SUNY); (8) Lisa McNary (North Carolina State University). Additional thanks go to Chris De Vinne, who also serves as Book Review Editor. The members of the Award Committee for Best Article in Names also merit praise for their hard work: (1) Dwan Shipley (Western Washington University); (2) Michael F. McGoff (Binghamton University, SUNY); and (3) Edward Callary (Northern Illinois University). Without their help, Names would not be possible. Finally, I would like to thank Iman Laversuch (University of Cologne, Germany), for her efforts in assembling the special issue of Names on "Names and War" (2010, 58(4)). This special issue required her to put out a call for papers, choose suitable outside reviewers, and edit the papers in that issue. Edward Callary deserves special thanks for proofreading all of the issues of Names.
