When the article was published online, there was an update in the sentence on page 3 which should state ‘The headword list is made up of almost all surnames with 100 or more bearers in the 2011 list constructed from a variety of public sources by professor Richard Webber of the University of Newcastle, meaning that names with various ethnic and cultural origins are included’ instead of ‘The headword list is made up of almost all surnames with 100 or more bearers in the 2011 UK census, meaning that names with various ethnic and cultural origins are included’.

The author apologizes for this error.
